Why we make this list

We highlight the female artists because of the important debate about inequality. These debates are about the reasons behind the gender imbalance.

The link below elaborates on the way Roskilde Festival views the imbalance, and what the festival does to inspire more women to choose a music career.

<https://www.roskilde-festival.dk/more/equality/gender-balance>

¹ The list is based on expected band set-ups. The list does not include backing musicians.

Facts about Roskilde Festival

Roskilde Festival overview

- Since 1972 Roskilde Festival has been non-profit. Every year, the Roskilde Festival Charity Society organises Roskilde Festival with the purpose of generating funds to donate to humanitarian and cultural initiatives.
- Roskilde Festival has generated more than 345 million DKK (46 million euro) to charity.
- Roskilde Festival lasts 8 days between Saturday 30 June and Saturday 7 July.
- There is a total of 130,000 festival-goers (which makes Roskilde Festival Denmark's fourth largest city measured by population).
- 80,000 full festival tickets and 5,000 one-day tickets (a total of 20,000 one-day tickets) have been for sale.
- Full festival tickets are 2,100 DKK (ex. fee). This includes access to all 8 days and both camping and festival areas.
- One-day tickets are 1050 DKK (ex. fee).
- Tickets are on sale on roskilde-festival.dk.

About the programme

- A total of 190 music acts and artists have been announced: 174 music acts and 16 activists and artists. More will be announced later in the spring.
- 36 countries are represented in the programme.
- 42 % of the acts are from the Nordic countries.
- 32 % of the acts are from Denmark.
- 43 acts will play during the first three days of the festival on the Rising and Countdown talent stages.
- 75 % of the acts have never performed at the festival before.
- The 8 stages are Apollo, Arena, Avalon, Countdown, Gloria, Orange, Pavilion and Rising.
- The programme is put together by music bookers and curators, both paid staff and volunteers. Anders Wahrén is Head of Programme.

About the festival-goers (2017 figures)

- The tickets were sold in 82 different countries. 15 % of the tickets were sold outside of Denmark.
- 47 % women and 53 % men attended the festival. 48 % were single, and 21 % attended Roskilde Festival for the first time. The average age was 24.
- 30,000 participated as volunteers.
- 90 % listened to music they didn't already know, and 57 % gained an interest in something completely new to them.
